This application makes downloading videos very easy and simple for its users, allowing them to access any video from any video streaming. The interface of this application is straightforward. Top Free Vidmate Alternatives: Snaptube: It can be called the best alternative to the Vidmate app and has many features similar t the Vidmate app. Snaptube allows a user to download videos from multiple streaming sites such as Facebook, Youtube, Snapchat, and many more. The User Interface of this app is very amazing, and despite it being a free app, it offers full-fledged developer support. This app also has a beta version, which the users can check out. It also allows the users to download in multiple resolutions and settings and even in mp3. It also has a search tab where the users can search for specific videos from multiple sites. Snaptube is verified clean and safe and is very easy to use. This app cannot be downloaded from the play store and can be downloaded from the link given below. Download Snaptube Tubemate: With more than 150 Million Downloads, Tubemate can be called as the best Youtube Downloader. This is a very amazing app which is best for downloading videos from Youtube. It is an app that can download videos from YouTube, Vimeo, Metacafe, Google Videos, and many more sites. It has a very clean and User-friendly UI. The users can opt to download the videos from multiple resolutions and qualities such as 1920×1080, 1280×720, 640×360, 176×144 in MP4, and WebM video format. The users can download videos, but they can even convert and download Youtube videos to MP3, AAC, OGG audio quality, and many more options. This app allows the users to download the background videos so that it doesn't waste your time. Download TubeMate Videoder: Videoder is a fantastic Android and Windows application, which allows the users to download videos from youtube for free. This app's main highlights are its ability to load youtube playlists and download videos in 4K Quality. There is also an online version of this app, so that the users may not need to install the app for a single song; they can enter the URL of the video and get it downloaded. In the Android App, the app also has an inbuilt browser with Ad-blocker enabled to stay away from ads. The app also claims to download videos up to 10x times faster than other software. Other than downloading videos only from youtube, the app can download videos from more than 20+ websites. Download Videoder (Android) (Windows) OGYoutube: OGYoutube is a great app for Android, which gives you access to Youtube and provides some fantastic extra features like the ability to download videos from the app directly either in video format or even mp3. Nowadays, it has become a must-have app for all the youtube users who generally download videos. This app also allows the users to play videos in any resolution to the max of what the device supports. The app also supports downloading multiple videos simultaneously, not to wait for each video to get downloaded to download the next video. This app's main ability is to download videos with their subtitles and even in any format. Download OGYoutube TubeSaver: Like other apps in this category, TubeSaver also offers to download videos from youtube and many other video streaming sites, including Instagram. This app is also available for both Android and Windows and is completely free. This app also offers an inbuilt search engine and a browser in its application and can download HD Quality videos. This video downloader application comes with a multi-format downloader with a very easy to use UI. You can download the best videos in HD format, with unlimited video size. Download TubeSaver KeepVid Pro: KeepVid Pro is a free video downloader service, a free online service that enables you to download Youtube videos and convert those Youtube videos to MP3, MP4, or any other video and audio formats. This online Youtube video converter allows users to save videos from Facebook, Instagram, Vimeo, Dailymotion, Netflix, Hulu, Soundcloud, Liveinternet, and many more. The videos or any other file format downloaded from this site are secure and completely free of viruses. There is no limitation for downloading files, which makes it very useful. Visit KeepVid Pro ClipConverter: Personally used by me, Clip Converter is an online youtube video downloader tool, where the users can trim the video, change the speed, convert the file to any format before downloading. This removes the headache of downloading videos and then trimming and then again converting these to other file formats. This is available on a website and even an app on a play store. The best part of this being a browser add-on so that the users don't need to install the exe file on their PC. The users will need to click on a button to download the file in any format. Users can download videos in 4K in any file format. Visit ClipConverter SaveFrom.Net: Like ClipConverter, this is an online youtube video downloader with its main downside being that it doesn't have an android application on the play store. This is the easiest way to download videos from youtube, and users need to enter ss before the youtube URL in the browser; it directly takes us to the download page of the video. It also has a browser add on similar to ClipConverter, so that you can download videos straight from the page. The website is secured by Norton so that there is a guarantee that the files you download are safe and secure. Visit SaveFrom.Net InTube: Trusted by over 40,000,000 users, InTube is an online website based video downloader and an android application to download videos. InTube can download videos in 4K as well, which some websites and apps do not offer their users. The website claims to have a 10x faster download speed than others and has an inbuilt video and audio player. This app also sports an inbuilt video locker to save your videos from others. Overall, the user experience is good, and it may tend to show up ads sometimes, but it is okay. Download InTube Final Words: Downloading Videos have now become so easy that even a child can now download videos from youtube or any other streaming sites, but it is not legal in some places. We recommend you download videos from Snaptube as it is straightforward and fast and safe and secure. We don't promote piracy, and we are not related to any of these apps or websites in any way, nor the post has been sponsored.
